

RCLL Social Media Pictures Release

Reno Continental Little League uses its website and various social media sites such as Facebook and Instagram to promote the league around the community. In the course of the season, a picture of your son or daughter taken by a parent or board member, may be posted on the league page of these sites. The purpose of this is to promote the fun and love of baseball we all share. Obviously it would be time consuming and nearly impossible to get permissions from every parent about every picture we publish so we offer the following two choices:

- I have no issue with RCLL using pictures of my child on social media websites.
If this is the case simply throw this memo away and never worry about it again. Easy!
- I DO NOT want my pictures of my child to show up on RCLL social media websites.
Please fill out the bottom portion of this sheet and submit it by hand or email to our director of social media, Jennifer Helmholz.

Please DO NOT publish pictures of my child on the league's social media websites.
